March April May

Are the best months in which to purify your blood. During the winter months the blood becomes thin and impure, the body becomes weak and tired, the appetite may be lost, and just now the system craves the aid of a reliable medicine. Langley's Sarsaparilla is peculiarly adapted to purify and enrich the blood, to create a good appetite and to overcome that tired feeling. It increases in popularity every year

Langley's Sarsaparilla

Is the ideal spring medicine. It rouses the kidneys and liver, tones the digestive organs, creates an appetite, purifies and vitalizes the impure and sluggish blood, cures the headache and overcomes all the prostrating effects of that tired feeling.

The Spring Medicine

At the coming of spring the blood should be purified, as impurities which have been accumulating for months, or even years, are liable to manifest themselves and seriously affect the health. Langley's Sarsaparilla is undoubtedly the best blood purifier. It expels every taint of impurity, drives out scrofulous humors and germs of disease and gives to the blood the quality and tone essential to good health.

INTERIOR ITEMS.

Mining News and Other Matters Briefly Mentioned.

From the Sentinel.]

Mr. E. A. Nash, who has been appointed Dominion Land Agent for the Kamloops section of the railway belt, has entered upon his official duties at the inland capital.

A severe wind storm passed over this section this week, continuing for two days and nights. No casualties are reported, but during the more violent gusts many feared the "Wiggins" storm was at hand.

Gardening is being vigorously pushed forward by the majority of householders, but the cold and backward weather is not very encouraging.

Beyond the closing of the bank and government office there was very little appearance of a holiday in Kamloops on Friday.

The illness of Mrs. J. A. Mara, who has been confined to her room for some days past, is announced.

Mr. F. Robson, son of the Hon. John Robson, is recovering nicely, being able to sit up and walk about, and only waiting for warm weather to become fully restored.

Mrs. Peters, an inmate of the Royal Island Hospital, from Revelstoke, became violently insane on Thursday night and two or three times during the night set fire in her room, which was fortunately discovered by Mrs. Potter and extinguished.

Mr. Geo. Riley, one of the contractors on the S. & O. Railway, was in town on Thursday. He left for Sicamous on Friday morning, where Messrs. C. E. Perry, C.E., and T. W. Patterson were awaiting him. A large gang of workmen will follow them on Tuesday next, and immediate operations will begin.

Shipbuilder Watson has found it necessary to break up the ice with dynamite, in order to get water which accumulated and was interfering with work on the new steamer.

Wm. M. Glover, H. J. Wright, and James Turley arrived from Big Bend on Friday morning, having left McCulloch Creek last Sunday morning, stopping over one day at Carne's Creek. They report the Last Chance tunnel to be in 500 feet.

The bears have come out of their winter hiding places. The party who came in from Big Bend saw their fresh tracks in several places. They were making long leaps, one that was measured covering eight yards.

The ice in the river shows no signs of moving yet. Snow is melting very slowly and is not likely to cause a sudden flood.

On the Yak river, which flows into the Kootenay from the north towards the Canadian boundary, quite a number of claims have been located.

A new mining district just brought into notice, is the Boulder Creek District, situated about eighteen miles east of Eaton, a new town on the Kootenay river and a half mile east from Bonner's Ferry. During the past season considerable development work has been done and the showing is highly satisfactory. Up to this time fifty claims have been located, a dia all of them that any work has been done at all there is pay ore in sight, many of them showing immense bodies of very high grade galena and carbonate ore.

Near Libby creek, sixty miles above Eaton, E. J. Brickell, of Spokane Falls, and others have several rich properties. Assays have been obtained which show 160 ounces in silver and immense bodies of ore in sight. Fifteen claims have already been located and the prospect for a big stampede to this rich region, it is believed, will set in early this spring.

The Lots offered this week by Bouchier, Croft & Mallette are in Victoria North, on the Burnside and Saanich roads.

No Dust.

Strange Being Described in a Philadelphia Newspaper.

Go from home to hear the news, is an old saying, and it is exemplified every day. The Philadelphia Times publishes an article which will be news to residents of this province. It says that "One of the most remarkable freaks of nature ever known can be found near Vancouver in an Indian settlement. The strange being is called Joe, and it is difficult to tell whether the animal is a bear or an Indian.

The uncouth being is of prodigious size and strength, with limbs well formed except that the ankles turn out, giving the feet the appearance of paws. The face and head is shaped very nearly like that of a grizzley bear. He never sits or stands like a man, but when at rest settles upon his haunches like a bear. When in motion he walks on all fours with the peculiar sidelong, awkward motion of a bear. He cannot talk, but gives vent to growls like a bear. When enraged he seizes the object of his wrath in a death-like hug. Thus far he is to all intents and purposes a bear.

But his parents are Indians, his associates are Indians, he loves red blankets and Indian trinkets, and his food is Indian food.

Joe is well known throughout both British Columbia and Washington. Every year he goes with the other Indians to the Puena valley, and the Snake and Columbia Rivers in the hop picking season, and proves himself to be the best hop picker of the tribe.

CONSUL E. W. MEYER

Arrival Here of the Representative of the United States.

The newly appointed United States Consul for Victoria, Levi W. Meyer, Esq., of Wapello, Iowa, arrived here on Saturday evening by the steamer Olympian. Mr. Meyer was appointed to his position some weeks after the death of the late Col. Steveks, but owing to delays arising in the State department, his departure for Victoria has been from time to time postponed.

The Consul is a novice at consular work, but as he has been a successful newspaper man of many years experience, there is no doubt about his ability to fill the office. Mr. Meyer is a gentleman of perhaps 50 years of age, and over 30 of them have been passed as a writer for the public press. During the war of the rebellion he was Associated Press correspondent for nearly two years, which responsible position he filled satisfactorily. For the past 24 years he has been proprietor and managing editor of the Wapello, Iowa, Republican, and during the Harrison-Cleveland presidential campaign, he took an active part in the support of his party's candidate, and had the pleasure of seeing his chief elected. Mr. Meyer was also one of the members of the electoral college, and has been identified with the success of the Republican party.

Speaking of Victoria, Mr. Meyer said that he was somewhat surprised to find so large and beautiful a city here. He will soon, he thinks, send for his family, as he is most favorably impressed with the place. In manner Mr. Meyer is affable and polite; he is also a ready conversationalist, and will no doubt be a popular representative of the United States. He will assume control of the Consular office here on Friday next, filling in the intermediate time in making acquaintances.

The train carried an unusually large number of passengers.

SPORTS AND PASTIMES.

A Resume of Events in the Sporting Arena.

The Victoria Rifle Association held a general meeting on Mr J. L. Beckwith's rooms on Saturday evening. C.S. Wolfenden was in the chair. Election of officers was part of the work of the evening with the following result: President Col. Wolfenden (re-elected); Capt. P. E. Irving, vice-president, (re-elected); B. Williams, secretary (re-elected); A. G. Sargison, treasurer. The council remains as last year. TO-DAY'S DISPATCHES.

Le Caron to be Provided for—An Illegitimate Claimant for $12,000,000.

Strike of 6,000 Carpenters—An Exploring Party on the Way to Alaska.

New York, April 7.—A special from Greenville, Miss., says: Capt. Chambers of the U. S. mail steamer Chicot arrived here this evening, and he says he saw Capt. Tollinger, U. S. engineer commanding the fleet in the vicinity of Arkansas City, and that Tollinger informed him that at about 3 o'clock Saturday afternoon about twenty-five men armed with Winchesters came to Opossum Fork levee and made the guards leave their post, threatening to shoot down the first one who disobeyed their orders. They cut the levee at that point, and the gap was about fifty feet wide at 6 o'clock Sunday morning. The parties who did the cutting are unknown, and their object in cutting the levee at that point was to relieve their section of the country from water running through a new crevasse.

ROYALTY AND AN ACTRESS.

Berlin, April 7.—Another morganatic marriage is about to augment the number of matrimonial alliances between royalty and the stage. The Landgrave of Hesse, twenty-seven years of age and stone blind, is about to wed a very popular actress of the leading Frankfort theatre. She is exceedingly beautiful and of noble birth, being a daughter of a distinguished officer whose death left his family in great poverty.

FOR ALASKA.

San Francisco, April 7.—The leading members of the Alaska exploring expedition now sent out by W. J. Arkell of New York, arrived in the city last evening. They are E. H. Wells, A. B. Schanz and E. J. Glove. On Thursday they will sail on the steamer Patterson for Alaska and will not return until November. The expedition when fully organized will consist of about 25 men, including scouts, guides servants and an Indian named Tom Young, an old scout from Winnipeg who will join the party here.

HIS TURN.

Fort Yates, N.D., April 7.—Captain G. Fechet, who was president of the court martial that tried and sentenced Private Wild for refusing to perform menial service for Lieut. M. P. Steele, is now being tried by court martial for drunkenness while on duty. The prosecution alleges that Fechet appeared intoxicated on a general court martial of which he was president. He has been arraigned and pleaded not guilty.

RACE TROUBLES.

Birmingham, Ala., April 7.—Yesterday's killing of a marshall and three negroes, while not directly connected with political trouble existing here, citizens claim the negroes have been incited by republicans, and whites are operating at Irondale, a suburb of this city. Trouble arose in an election for mayor and appointment of postmaster. James E. Widmann, republican candidate for mayor defeated C. A. Taunton, the democratic candidate, by seven votes, and Taunton claimed that the republicans had run in seven negroes who were not entitled to vote. A contest was instituted in the courts, resulting in the election being upset. From this decision an appeal was taken to the supreme court a few days ago.

THE SUGAR CLAIMANT.

Springfield, Mass., April 7.—The illegitimate son of Judge A. J. Davis, the Montana money king, who died recently without leaving a will at Butte City, has put in a claim to his $12,000,000 of the property as heir. He has sent Judge Gideon Wells to Montana to represent him, and the other heirs in New York have employed a distinguished lawyer to look after their claims. The relatives here are two sisters and a niece, while the New York nephew is making strenuous efforts to save the estate to his immediate kin.

FOR NORTHERN SURVEYS.

San Francisco, April 7—The United States coast survey steamer Patterson, Lieutenant H. B. Mansfield, commanding, is in the stream, and is making ready for an extensive Alaskan surveying trip. She will leave on the 10th instant, and will first make a survey of the Linn canal at Chatham straits. Attention will also be paid to Taku inlet and icy straits. Subsequently the Patterson will go from Juneau to Sitka, making survey at important points. It is expected the result of the trip will be to make a number of valuable corrections to old Alaskan charts.

CARPENTERS QUIT.

Chicago, April 7.—Six thousand carpenters struck for shorter day's work and forty cents per hour. No union carpenters are at work in the city. The non-union men quit work out of sympathy.

A ROGUE'S PUNISHMENT.

Brooklyn, April 7.—Theodore S. Cox, superintendent of the Samaritan Hospital, convicted of grand larceny by obtaining money from the county for mythical patients, was sentenced to four years in the penitentiary.

WRECKED BY A DEFALCATION.

New York, April 7.—G. K. Sisters & Sons, bankers, have failed. A defalcation in their Philadelphia office is reported to be the cause. Douglas Hill, general manager of the Philadelphia office, who died on Saturday, was found $150,000 short. This and a defalcation of A. M. Stanton of Detroit for $150,000 some time ago, caused the suspension.

LABOR TROUBLES.

San Francisco, April 7.—Thirty-three iron moulders arrived from Philadelphia this morning to take the place of strikers. Twenty of them immediately deserted on their arrival and joined the latter. No violence or other sensation was connected with the desertion.

Chas. H. Prince, a livery stable owner, suicided this morning by shooting himself in the head. Sickness and poor business prompted the rash act.

WORK IMPENDS.

Chicago, April 7.—The carpenters strike, added to that of the plumbers, will put a pretty effective stopper on building operations. Machinists held a large meeting yesterday and the eight hour system was greatly favored, but no action was taken. They will meet again in a few days. All those things are making builders very cautious about signing contracts.

Redwood for Victoria.

The American schooner Mary E. Boss, Capt. C. Peterson, arrived this morning from Humboldt Bay with a cargo of redwood for Sehl's furniture factory. The schooner was eleven days on the passage up.

The new subdivision of Victoria comprises Lots 7 and 8, 37 and 38 of the Work Estate. Bouchier, Croft & Mallette are the brokers.

EUROPEAN NEWS.

IRELAND RISES UP.

Dublin, April 7.—Freeman's Journal says: Le Caron, the Times' witness before the Parnell commission, is living retired in a London suburb. He is changed by a grey beard and recognition is difficult. The Journal asserts that he will be given government employment in Australia.

THE TURF.

London, April 7.—The Easter handicap at Kempton Park was won by Bruce.

ABYSSINIA AND ITALY.

Rome, April 7.—Menelek, Emperor of Abyssinia, writes to the Premier authorizing Italy to represent Abyssinia at the anti-slavery conference at Brussels. Menelek asserts that the policy of Abyssinia is to co-operate with civilized nations to abolish the African slave trade, and he asks his troops to be allowed to pass through Italian possessions in Africa on their way to fight the dervishes. Meschaba, Menelek's Eildopian resident, has arrived at Massowa. He will act in harmony with the Italian forces in the government of Tigre, a province of Abyssinia. Troops will evacuate the province.

SPRING RACES.

Manchester, April 7.—Ibex won the Lancashire handicap. The steeple chase is late here to-day.

OUTRAGES ON CHRISTIANS.

Candia, April 7.—Christian churches have been pillaged and Christian residents insulted by Turkish soldiers in the Province of Candia. Governor Chakis Pasha, on intervention of foreign diplomats, has ordered a commission to investigate and report the extent of abuses. The Turks will compensate the victims.

GRAND MINISTRY.

Constantinople, April 7.—The Sultan's acceptance of a convention of the agreement of the finance minister with the banking syndicate. A dissolution of the ministry is expected.

Just the chance for workingmen who wish to build. Very cheap lots convenient to centre of city on Burnside Road. Bourchier, Croft & Mallette.

THE CAPITAL

The Behring Sea Question Still a Momentous One.

Special to THE TIMES.]

Ottawa, April 7.—Minister of Marine and Fisheries, Tupper, who left to-day hurriedly for Washington, to give further evidence in the Behring Sea matter, was very anxious that his movements for the present at least should not be known. It leaked out, however, that he was going, and that after a meeting of the cabinet it was decided to send him back again. The seizure of the schooner Pathfinder has had something to do with his sudden recall as far as can be learned.

STANFORD TALKS.

He Says He Will Resign as President of the S. P. R. R.

San Francisco, April 7.—Senator Stanford was seen at his office this morning. "It is true," he said, "that I shall present my resignation as president of the Southern Pacific company at a meeting of the board of directors on Wednesday. The reason is simply that I can't attend to my duties. The university and senatorship consumes so much of my time that I cannot meet with my associates and give them the assistance they require from one who occupies my position, and so at last they have agreed to consent to my retirement. I have contemplated this step for four years, but heretofore my associates have declined to accept my resignation. It is also true that Mr. Huntington will succeed me. He has lately retired from the presidency of the Chesapeake & Ohio railway and can now devote his time to our company. I shall retain all my interest in the railway, comprising the Southern Pacific system, and when my assistance is necessary will give towards their management."

FORCED TO RESIGN.

The True Story of Bismarck's Retirement From the Chancellorship.

New York, April 7.—The Herald's Berlin special says: No German newspaper dare print the story of the chancellor's retirement. Prince Bismarck has gone willingly, but has been forced against his will, to resign the chancellorship of the state he served so well. The Kaiser began to treat the Prince coolly soon after the latter's return to Berlin. This coolness increased so rapidly that the Prince finally, with characteristic bluntness asked, "Am I in your way?" To the Prince's astonishment, His Majesty gave no positive denial but seemed inclined to temporize. Then the Prince intimated his willingness to surrender all his offices except the direction of foreign affairs. His Majesty was willing to do this, but the Chancellor soon became convinced that a division of his functions at this special juncture would be extremely dangerous, hence he suggested to the Kaiser the expediency of postponing all action in the matter until the Reichstag had come together, or until mid-summer, so that the Chancellor might control the debates on the Socialist question, the increased estimates to be demanded for the army, and the increase of pay for government officials in Germany, and especially Prussia, the hardest working, best informed, most conscientious and trustworthy set of office holders in the world. Up to ten days ago this arrangement was

AGREEABLE TO THE KAISER.

Then he sent to the Prince orders that he knew the latter would rather resign than execute. The Chancellor, though greatly excited, kept his head and did not send in his resignation at once. His Majesty became impatient and the question was several times put to the Chancellor: "Why do you not send in your resignation?" The Kaiser spoke to the Chancellor with the greatest frankness, and brought about several occasions when he allowed things to be calculated to provoke an outburst from the Chancellor. The latter sought to effect a compromise by asking leave of absence for six months, but to vain. His Majesty's mind was firmly made up. There is no sadder story on history's page than the estrangement of the Iron Chancellor from the reigning sons of the royal house to whom he had devoted his glorious gifts during a lifetime exceeding by several years the usual period allotted to mankind. Terms of so-called settlement in the very recent bestowment of Imperial Germany, of that Germany to which he has been a miracle worker, a lamp of Aladdin, to be broken and cast out of the window as a worthless relic of the blood and iron age is not yet known. Terrible as has been the misery of the last ten days, it has not broken our iron heartedness. The Anglo-Saxon race will be the lightning has struck but to destroy.

The sale of the very cheap property in the Work Estate has begun. Come early to secure a well located building lot for $275.

THE BARS DOWN.

The Colonist, the World, the Columbian, and all the other organs of the Ronsox government, are advised to carefully study the report of the Public Accounts Committee, when, having grasped the full significance of the thinly veiled implications which it contains, they will not, we feel convinced, fail to give their impressions to their readers. The committee charged with an examination of the books and accounts of the government is the most important of all the House committees. Its duty is a judicial one of a very delicate character. The manner in which the accounts are kept, and the system, or the absence of a system, is generally looked into in a perfunctory manner, for the majority of the committee are supporters of the government and do not care to uncover any delinquencies, or unearth any scandals, and thereby damage their friends. It was, perhaps, for this reason that there was no meeting of the Public Accounts Committee last year. The only possible check upon irregularities—we will not say malfeasance—is the auditor, whose duty it is to examine the debit and credit side of the public ledger, compare the entries with the vouchers, and, according to the formula, certify them correct. No person will question the ability of the present incumbent of that office. The feeling of unconcern with which the committee has always approached an investigation is in a large measure due to the confidence reposed in the auditor. The fact that Mr. SMITH's duties are of a clerical and routine character is overlooked. The auditor is not responsible for the system, or rather the absence of any system, which prevails in every department, nor may he be held responsible for the disturbing fact that the books of the Lands and Works Department have not been audited for years. This duty comes within the scope of the Public Accounts Committee.

Mr. DUCK, ex-Finance Minister and a supporter of the government, is Chairman of the Public Accounts Committee this session. On the 31st of March he reported to the House that chap. 102, sec. 47, of the Consolidated Statutes, had been violated by the government. This section requires that whenever a remission of taxes is made by the executive, that "a detailed statement of such remission shall be submitted to the Legislative Assembly within the first fifteen days" of the ensuing session. The Canadian Pacific Railway Company, on the 22nd of June, 1889, had complained to the government that the assessment of the Company's property was excessive, and the government, by order-in-council, reduced it one-half. The legislature met on the 22nd of January, and Mr. DUCK reports that "a detailed statement of such remission," (as required by statute) was not submitted to the Assembly by the government until the fifth day of this month (March), being forty-two days, inclusive, in which the Legislature was in session before such statement was submitted." Further, the committee reports: "Your committee are of the opinion that the requirements of a statute should be observed."

The second finding of the committee indicates equal laxity—perhaps it would be better described as criminal carelessness—on the part of the government. Briefly stated it was this: The late Superintendent of Police ROYCRAFT was in the habit of collecting large sums of money and retaining them in his possession for some time before turning them over. The only security held by the government was a bond for one thousand dollars of a guarantee company, which has been paid since ROYCRAFT became a defaulter. The actual ascertained loss to the provinces through ministerial carelessness in not exacting an adequate bond is stated by Mr. DUCK to be $682.65.

The third point made will give rise to grave suspicions in the mind of every person who has any knowledge of the fallibility of human nature. The language of the report is as follows: "Your committee further find that a very large proportion of revenue is paid by the public into the Lands and Works Department in addition to large sums paid out of the treasury to that department as cash advances. AN AUDIT OF THE BOOKS OF THE LANDS AND WORKS DEPARTMENT HAS NOT TAKEN PLACE FOR YEARS."

Comment upon this startling condition of affairs is perhaps unnecessary. The report is the language of a committee of the House composed of three government and two opposition members. Direct or implied charges are made: (1) That the government violated a statute; (2) That it was derelict in not requiring adequate security from an official, and, ergo, is responsible for the loss of money involved; and (3) that as there has been no audit for years of the books of the Lands and Works Department, where large sums of money are received and paid out, there exists an opportunity for fraud on a gigantic scale. Has there been? and? We do not know, and neither, apparently, do the committee. That there has been carelessness, a violation of statute law, and gross maladministration, is clearly indicated; but without a searching audit who dare assert that the committee's palpable insinuations are unjustifiable, or that it was wrong in demanding, as it does in the closing paragraph of its report, that "a much more complete system of supervision over collections of revenue, and more frequent and regular payments of their collections into the treasury, and a full and practical audit of the books of every official is essential in the public interest."

INCREASED TARIFF AND B. C.

As to the matter of protection, we never have been able to understand wherein it was anything more or less than a tax imposed on the many for the benefit of the few. If the government should go to work and enact a law that we must purchase our groceries from A, our clothes from B, and our farming implements from C, on the principle that home industries should be patronized, A, B and C charging 25 per cent. more for their goods than they would cost elsewhere, we would resist it as an act of tyranny; and yet, this in effect is precisely what is being done, save that we, through our representatives, have sanctioned the procedure. We have agreed, in order to develop the resources of the country, that it is necessary to patronize home industries and to insure this being done, for public spirit is at such low ebb that it will buy of those who sell the cheapest irrespective of nationality, we slap a tax on imports. We flatter ourselves that just so soon as there is a call for home made material, that the supply will equal the demand; that, in a word, the competition which will be engendered will reduce values to the lowest possible figure commensurate with the cost of production. Undoubtedly this is true of some lines of products, but as a rule the opposite is the result. Is there a man in this province so simple as to believe that the increased duty of 10 per cent. on beef, mutton and pork, making the duty 30 per cent. will so stimulate stock raising that prices will fall? There is not a man in the province who believes anything of the kind. He knows that the extra 10 per cent. duty will cause the stock raisers to add 10 per cent. to the value of their products, that they will sell not for 30 per cent less, but say 5 per cent. less than it will cost to import the same article, or in other words, beef, mutton and pork will cost the consumer 25 per cent more than it should. To illustrate the thing more plainly, for we are anxious that consumers should fully realize that National Policy is getting to be as costly as a meat diet, we will make an illustration. Suppose that the stock raising interest in this province was an incorporated company, and that their stock was at par, or in other words worth one hundred cents on the dollar. A duty of 30 cents is clapped on imports in kind. What is the result? Does the stock of this company still remain at par? Does the company say to the consumers th at they will continue to sell at old rates? Not by any means. They immediately advance the price of beef, and their stock sells on 'change at $1.30. This is the effect of protection. The consumer pays 30 cents more for every dollar's worth of beef that he buys than he ought to. Nobody is benefitted but the stock raiser. This is what is called "National Policy." The people expect, or are told that if they want to become a rich and powerful community, they must first go to work and make a few stock raisers inordinately rich. Out of a population of say 60,000 there are, perhaps, 2500 stock raisers, and so it comes about that 57,500 people tax themselves, reduce their earnings by 30 per cent. that 2500 cattle kings may be enriched. We have always supposed that the sane qua non of nationalization consisted of the greater proportion of the population being prosperous. According, however, to the code recently enunciated at Ottawa and subscribed to by British Columbia representatives, the nationalization of Canada in general and of British Columbia in particular consists in making the cattle kings richer, and the consumers which outnumber them as twenty-four to one, poorer.

Thus far we have confined our attention to beef. Let us now take up the question of protected mutton. Now as a matter of fact there is but little mutton raised in British Columbia, and what is more the cattle kings have procured legislation which virtually prohibits this variety of enterprise in the interior. In order that the cattle ranges may be preserved the raising of sheep has been prohibited, the law indeed is so stringent that a band of sheep cannot be driven through the country. Under the circumstances it is needless to remark that without exception all of the mutton consumed in this province is imported. And yet, notwithstanding, the tariff has been raised on mutton. Notwithstanding the fact that sheep raising is prohibited, notwithstanding that it has been agreed that the mutton culture is inimical to cattle raisers interests, and notwithstanding that British Columbia members are profoundly aware of the state of affairs, they voted that their constituents should pay a higher price for their mutton than ever before. This is consistent. This is an action which doubtless will commend them for re-election in the opinion of every elector who is addicted to the unfortunate habit of eating mutton. No pretense is made that the sheep raising industry should be fostered in this province, but the duty is increased all the same, and our members are on record as having sanctioned without protest a measure at once so inconsistent and so monstrous.

In the matter of pork and lard we also import largely, and what is more we are bound to continue to import for years to come. Build up the tariff wall as high as may be, but not until irrigation is established, and every foot of agricultural land is under cultivation, will this province be able to produce pork and lard in quantities sufficient for its own consumption. Why then until the land is cleared and irrigation ditches are dug; why until we are ready to raise our own pork, should a duty be levied on this article of diet? Is such a policy consistent with national prosperity? In the matter of fruits, why should we be taxed for them? We are told that apples, plums, pears, cherries and some other kinds of fruit can be raised in British Columbia. If that is so, why has there not been an effort made in that direction? Or, even admitting that there is a movement on foot to develop horticulture, why should we be taxed until it is apparent that we cannot compete against the California and Oregon products? Glancing over the whole list of articles of food consumption, we find that there are none, but which should be on the free list, and the consequence is that, in so far as British Columbia is concerned, she is being impoverished in the interest of a so called "national policy," a policy which if continued must eventuate in National Poverty.

There can be but one result, the growth of British Columbia will be retarded. Without a market for her natural products, and compelled to pay 30 per cent. more than she ought for all of her articles of consumption, she will, to immigrants, prove the reverse of a land flowing with milk and honey. These people will seek the United States. To remain here is to live from hand to mouth, and this is what is called "National Policy." If it was clear that the eastern provinces would be bettered by the increased tariff rates, it would not be so bad. British Columbia might then well afford to sacrifice something that the major proportion of Canada should be benefitted. But there is nothing to show that Ontario and the Maritime provinces will gain a penny's worth by the new condition of things, and how then should British Columbia be expected to bear increased cost of living with equanimity? We are not simple enough to suppose that even had the British Columbia members voted solid against the increase on British Columbia's necessities that they could have carried the day, but such action would have shown that they had a lively conception of what was needful for British Columbia, and since it is not clear that the increase of duties will benefit the Dominion as a whole, thus demanding of British Columbia the sacrifice, they have only their gross ignorance to offer as an apology for their attitude.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

The Oregonian's Washington correspondent has interviewed Col. W. P. HEPBURN, solicitor of the Treasury, on the Behring Sea question. The Colonel expressed the opinion that the seals would be more thoroughly protected this summer than ever before. Last year, says the Colonel, the action of the Rush was intended as a mere warning. This year the sea will be so closely watched that no poachers will escape. England has her hands full with the Irish and European questions, and too busy watching Russia to keep her from encroaching on India, to pick a quarrel with the great republic. This appears to be the feeling current in Washington. This is about the size of it Uncle Sam proposes to take advantage of John Bull having too many irons in the fire.

OUR ENGLISH LETTER.

Russia Seeks to Crush French Autonomy—China Greatly Concerned.

Bismarck Not a Man of Blood and Iron—New Method of Criminal Detection.

London, April 5.—The scheme to convert Finland from a free state with the Czar as its constitutional sovereign, into a Russian province with the Czar as its autocrat, excites considerable comment in Europe. People generally have had their eyes fixed upon Russian operations in the Danubian provinces and on the Dardanelles to the neglect of the encroachments of that vast and restless power in other directions. Russia is feared by Sweden not less than Turkey, and Sweden looks to England just as the Sultan does for protection from the grasp of the Muscovite despot. The Scandinavians are not united in feeling for reasons apparent to the readers of their history. Between Russia and Denmark there has for ages existed a strong sympathy, while Russia and Denmark regard Sweden both with antipathy, and the former with covetous eyes. The Russification of the Finns, therefore, means one more step in Russia's advance toward an attack upon Sweden and Norway. Finland was a part of Sweden for centuries. Russia first annexed one-half and in 1809 seized the other half, but not until after a heavy struggle which is commemorated in the grandest Scandinavian epic of this age. The eyes of Europe were bent at the time upon Napoleon. Otherwise the Russian conquest of Finland would have a place in history with the throttling of freedom in Poland. Some of the incidents, as when one Finnish soldier held a narrow bridge for many minutes against a large force of Russians, falling just as the Swedish army came up to the post which his valor had saved for them, compare with the noblest achievements on record. People of this kind will not yield their liberties without a struggle. The western shore of Finland is chiefly settled by the Swedish race, and most of these would prefer flight or emigrate. As stated in a previous despatch, many thousands have already emigrated.

CHINA ALSO ALARMED.

From Shanghai comes the statement that the Chinese are strengthening themselves on their northern frontier against an apprehended attack by Russia. China for several years has been increasing her military force in the provinces adjoining the Amoor River, and stout forts have been erected at the points most likely to be threatened by the Russian invasion. China could throw about 200,000 of the best troops of the empire into immediate action in the event of a war with Russia, while the population to be drawn upon for reinforcements is practically unlimited. No word comes from St. Petersburg as to whether there is any ground for the Chinese fears, but this silence indicates nothing. Russia is not in the habit of publishing to the world either her foreign or domestic policy. Besides others have usually allowed rather than permitted their generals to undertake movements that meant or led to war, and especially has this been the case in Russia, where whole districts have been absorbed and extensive hostilities carried on at various times within this century, without any declaration of war against anybody. The enemies, however, have been half savage tribes, and Khans with little authority beyond the view from their new and built towers. Dealing with China would be a different matter for the Chinese army is vastly improved in discipline and equipment since the affair with France a few years ago. But even in making war upon China it would be entirely in accord with the dignity that characterizes the cabinet of the Czar, to begin hostilities through some commander whose course, if unsuccessful, might be repudiated. On the other hand, there is the despatch announcing the Chinese military movements in the direction of the northern frontier relates nothing new, being simply a confirmation of the report that China is keeping vigilant guardianship over the provinces in which more than a year ago she had already stationed the flower of her army.

THE NEW SYSTEM OF CRIMINAL DIRECTION

M. Bertillon, the inventor of the anthropometrical system of criminal investigation and identification, will give an account of his methods at the Anthropological Society on the evening of April 22nd. The art of classification for which the French are so noted, is brought to perfection in M. Bertillon's system, and its practical adaptability to the detection of crime and the verification of criminals is well known. The gentlemen engaged in this particular line of enquiry are preparing to give M. Bertillon a very cordial reception.

BISMARCK A MAN OF PEACE.

Herr Woermann, the life long friend of Prince Bismarck, in an interview today, said that the allusion to Bismarck as the "man of blood and iron" is altogether unjustified, as the whole political life of the ex-chancellor shows him to have been a man of peace. Prince Bismarck's experience at the Diet of Frankfort, Herr Woermann continued, convinced him that there was not room enough in Germany for both Austria and Prussia. It became his object to turn out Austria, and he never concealed his intent on to accomplish it. He was ready to make a bargain, so long as he was required to concede nothing essential. When a bargain on these terms was not to be had, he accepted the conflict for which he knew Prussia was ready, and the result justified his foresight. In the settlement of the Sadowa he exerted a self restraint which was perhaps his greatest achievement. The soldiers were against him for they trusted their strength. Bismarck looking farther ahead advocated moderation as the right way to secure the goodwill of their temporary enemies. In this way he gained over South Germany within a year or two, and Austria a few years later. The conflict with France was held to be inevitable. After the defeat of Austria the military leaders were able to take it up at any time. Indeed the General Staff was ready even in 1866 to enter Vienna at the risk of having the French army on their flank. But Prince Bismarck preferred moderation. In 1866 when the Luxemburg dispute arose, the military administration was for accepting the French challenge. Bismarck was for a compromise, if it could be effected honorably. He held that a war postponed may be a war prevented. In 1870 the conditions were different. The challenge was given to Germany in a manner which left no alternative. The theory that Prince Bismarck has conjured it up by some deep-laid plot is a fiction of his enemies. In the work that followed of drawing up politic form to German unity, the Chancellor kept a most moderate programme. When the terms of peace with France came to be settled Prince Bismarck was again for moderation. The annexation of Alsace-Lorraine was forced upon him by the soldiers and by public opinion, created by the historical school. His chief object sems the treaty of Frankfort has been to keep the peace. While consolidating the power and influence of Germany, she has never taken a narrow view of the means to secure this end, and in 1878 he made every possible concession to Russia. When he afterwards said that he had gained nothing by this course except an honorable peace, he made an alliance with Austria and Italy, which still exists. This enabled him to weather the very dangerous crisis occasioned by the union of the two Bulgarians. It is the simple truth that for 20 years Bismarck has been a power working for peace.

THE KAISER'S NEW METHODS.

The German Emperor has in view far more sweeping legislation than the ex-chancellor would have tolerated, and will use the resources of the state for the benefit of the working classes on a scheme hitherto untried, thus outbidding the social democratic agitators for the support of the masses. Such a programme will not be acceptable to the well-to-do classes who feel that the pocket of the state is their pocket and that what is given "has not" must be contributed by those who have.

MORE LABOR QUESTIONS.

The employees of the government arsenal at Woolwich, numbering about 10,000, have formally protested against their present scale of wages, and threaten to strike to enforce their demand for an increase. The highest wages now paid to the artizans in the arsenal are only twenty-one shillings a week, much less than is paid to equally skilled workmen in many machine shops conducted by private parties. A deep feeling of discontent also prevails in the Metropolitan police force regarding the question of pensions, and there are rumors that a strike is imminent. John Burns, the famous agitator, has interested himself in the matter and has offered to organize an agitation in the interest of the police, provided that two officers of the force will actively assist him. Secret meetings have be held to discuss this proposition, but with what result is not known.

KOOTENAY'S PLATFORM.

To THE EDITOR OF THE TIMES:

SIR.—Give me leave to state, in view of the approching elections, that my correspondence with all quarters, shows that the programme favored by independent miners, and by investors in the Kootenay Lake subdivision of West Kootenay District—including numerous non-electors as well as electors—includes the following:—(1) Railway from Sproat to Nelson. (2) Winter railway access to the camps. (3) Railway to the south. (4) Local courts. (5) Amendment of the mineral law. (6) A fair general railway act. (7) Equitable grants for public works, schools and hospitals.

This programme is not framed by politicians or partizans, but by those who are interested in the welfare of the camps. There is nothing in the programme which an honest government of any stripe might not adopt. I anticipate that it will be favored by free electors in the northern part of the district. Nobody down south objects to it except the correspondent "Kootenay," whose letter to the Colonist being simply abusive, without argument, does not call for notice. His allusion to Mr. Mara I do not understand. Mr. Mara's speech on the mining machinery duty was a very good speech. The difficulty in his case is, with other young men, he committed himself some time ago to the idiotic N. P. policy, from which his common sense and clear intellect now revolt. The high-flying statesmanship which requires that the cost of Kootenay prospectors' "grub" should be raised, to enable the Ontario miller to get a piano for his daughter, is not self evident to the former. The width of the continent makes the argument difficult to handle, but I must not deviate into Dominion politics. As to Kootenay, we do not propose that our next member will have a sinecure billet. Your obedient servant,

G. M. SPROAT,
Chairman of the Victoria-Kootenay Committee.

A look at the back of his coat was positive proof that he had been on his back. No arrests were made.

An Opportunity.

Mr. W. A. Stevens, of Port Townsend, formerly of this city, is at present in the real estate business at the port of entry. He has with him one of the safest investments on the Sound country, which any one can participate in with either small or large capital, ensuring a large return in a short time. Mr. Stevens can be interviewed this evening only at the office of F. G. Richards, jr.

Slight Fire.

At 5.30 o'clock this afternoon an alarm of fire was turned in. The blaze was the result of a defective chimney in a small cottage No. 55 Y'ew street. Before the fire had gained any headway it was extinguished by a stream from No. 3, no damage of consequence being done. As a high wind was blowing at the time the quick reply of the department evidently prevented a blaze.

We Are The People.

The Chicago Inter Ocean publishes an article to show how important the claims of that city are for the position of the world's fair. In the course of the article it mentions that the city council of Victoria B. C. has indorsed the claims of Chicago. If this be so, the world's fair must be held in Chicago, and shows that the opinion of Victorian aldermen carries weight.

Kamloops Registry Office.

Hon. John Robson, Provincial Secretary, has advised the Kamloops petitioners for a land registry office in that district, that the executive council has considered the petition and intend next year to establish such office at Kamloops.

Alaskan Explorer.

Lieutenant H. W. Seton-Karr, the explorer of the famous Mount St. Elias and Prince William sound in Alaska, arrived last night on the Islander, and is registered at the Driard. He will soon leave on a new northern expedition, probably on the steamship City of Topeka on her next trip.

$275 is very cheap for a lot in any part of the city, on the street car line. Look at those offered by Bourchier, Croft & Mallette on Burnside Road.

Port Moody Mills.

A meeting of gentlemen interested in the contemplated mills at Port Moody was held on Saturday at the Caledonian hotel, Vancouver, and satisfactory arrangements were made for the formation of a syndicate, which will appoint trustees to arrange terms and conditions with the projectors.

Canada Western Hotel.

The contract for excavating for the basement of the Canada Western Hotel has been let to J. Haggerty. The work of which blasting will be the principal feature is to be completed in three months from the present time. The contract price is between $12,000 and $15,000. Operations were commenced this morning

Steam Laundry.

Mr. R. B. May, representing the A. M. Dolph Co. of Cincinnati, manufacturers of laundry machinery, is in Victoria on business connected with the establishment of a steam laundry here. Several gentlemen have expressed a willingness to take stock in the undertaking, which no doubt would be a great success financially.

$275 buys a lot 400 yards from the street cars, on Burnside Road. Terms, 1-3 cash; balance, 6 months. Bourchier, Croft & Mallette are the brokers

Stolen Boat.

A boat was stolen from the navy yard at Esquimalt one night last week by some deserters from the Amphion. Supt. of Police Sheppard has received a telegram from the deputy marshal at Port Angeles that the boat is at that place. A party from the man-of-war will go over in a pinnace to-morrow for the boat if the weather is fit.

A Leg Broken.

A carpenter named C. Maurman, while engaged in work on Saturday afternoon on a scaffold some fifteen feet above the ground on a house in course of erection in the vicinity of Spring Ridge, was precipitated to the earth by a slip, whereby a leg was fractured above the ankle. The accident is more to be regretted as Mr. Maurman has a wife and family.

An Ornamental Ship.

The model of a full-rigged bark, made by Mr. J. Dixon and presented by him to the park committee, was placed on Goodacre lake this afternoon, and will be one of the many attractions of that pretty sheet of water. The little ship rides the waves bravely, and is a first-class piece of work, for which Mr. Dixon has the thanks of the public and the park committee.

Vancouver Buys Here.

Mr. E. C. Kellogg, the druggist, corner of Yates and Douglas streets, has recently assumed the exclusive agency for British Columbia, of several important medical proprietaries goods, prominent among them being the Aphro Medicine company and Sage's celebrated remedies. These goods are ordered through him by retailers and, as they are extensively called for in all parts of the province, it is another important addition to our mercantile business.

A Curiosity.

The greatest "candle" on earth was seen by Stanley when in Africa, then burning at Tippo Tib's headquarters on the Congo. So striking was the article that he purchased it and brought it on to London where it is now on exhibition. This curiosity is known all over that great city as the Sir Thomas Candle. Fac-simile of the above has been sent down to us by our agent in London and on Wednesday will be on exhibition in the show window of the Lansdowne House, 86 Yates street. Car fare to the store five cents. Ap 7 2t

A Handsome Residence.

The handsome house erected for Mr. James Angus, corner of Moss and Belcher streets, is now nearly complete. The design of Mr. Burris, the architect, has been well carried out by the contractor, Mr. J. W. Carter, and the result is one of the most beautiful homes in the city. The inside finish is unique, that in the hallway and main dining room being in panneling. The sanitary and plumbing arrangements are perfect, and the best of work has been put into the building. The site is a splendid one, giving a grand view of the straits and city. The cost of the building was $10,000.

Advance in Passenger Rates.

A general advance in passenger rates on Puget Sound went into effect on Saturday. The advance is the result of a pool between the Union Pacific railway, Canadian Pacific Navigation company, Puget Sound and Alaska company and the smaller companies. The first-class rates from Victoria to Sound cities are not changed, but second-class fares are abolished, which is the only change so far as this port is concerned. There is an impression on the Sound that the company will not exist any length of time, as secret rate cutting will be indulged in by the inferior steamers. Scalpers have already purchased large blocks of tickets at the old rates and are offering them for sale.

Upset While Sailing.

Two young men, residents of James Bay, met with an unpleasant experience yesterday morning about half-past ten o'clock while out in a small sail boat. When off Hospital Point just after starting out the craft capsized by being struck with a squall. The young men succeeded in climbing aboard the upturned boat and shouted so loudly that their voices could be heard in the middle of the city. Several persons on shore at once set to rescue them. A dog accompanied the young men, and after the boat had capsized started to swim ashore, but turned around and proceeded a certain distance under the impression that the cries for help were calls to him.

Try Pendray's Glycerine and Cucumber Toilet---fifty cents per dozen.

EXTENSION OF THE SYSTEM.

The N. E. T. Co., Limited, Surveying A Line to Esquimalt.

A Times reporter this morning noticed a staff of surveyors running a line down Work street from Rock Bay bridge towards Esquimalt. Inquiry was made and the information elicited that the surveyors were busy taking levels and grades for the extension to Esquimalt of the lines of the N. E. T. Co.

Further inquiry was made in different localities and it was learned that the company will soon call for tenders for the construction of the line. An extensive addition to the power house and car sheds is also soon to be made to make room for the extra cars and the new engine and additional boilers necessary for the working of the extended system. The power will probably be increased by at least three times its present capacity, and other dynamos are to be ordered at once. The engine will in all likelihood be built here.

The extension of the street railroad system speaks well for the push and enterprise of the directors and shareholders of the undertaking, and as the success of the venture is now assured, those who at first looked askance at the project are buying to buy stock in it.

T. S. Gore, C. E., is in charge of the Esquimalt survey.

AN ERRAZZLER ARRESTED.

Located in Victoria After Making a Long Circuit.

R. E. Smith alias Herbert, an American defaulter, was arrested in Vancouver on Saturday by Supt. Wappinstein, of the Pinkerton detective force. Smith was accompanied by a woman who he called his wife. He had arrived from Victoria on Friday morning and registered at the Leland House, the officer following him up being on the same boat. But not until he was arrested was he aware the officer was so near him. Smith was one of the most trusted servants of the Corbin Banking Company of New York, and was constantly handling large amounts of their money. He had been with the firm for some years, and as he occasionally made trips to different parts of the country for them his absence for days at a time was not likely to excite any notice. He had a good reputation, was a member and regular attendant of the Presbyterian church, was married and in every particular seemingly a respectable and useful member of society. About a year ago, however, he fell in with a fascinating woman of questionable reputation, and from that time his course was one of down grade. He neglected his family and spent his money lavishly on this woman. When his own funds ran out he began his peculations, which he succeeded in concealing for several months. About three months ago he decided that it was not safe for him to remain any longer in the States, and taking the woman with him he started south, intending to go to Central America. On his way to New Orleans he stopped at Natchez and cashed a worthless check on Koontz & Britton for $3,000. He then continued his way. When he arrived at New Orleans he concluded that Canada would be a safer place for him than Central America, and he accordingly retraced his course and went to Toronto, where he took a C. P. R. train for Vancouver, arriving here near the end of January. He came over to Victoria as soon as he arrived, but returned to Vancouver on the 2nd of February and put up at the Hotel Vancouver, where he registered as R. E. Herbert, and wife. He remained there for two days and left by the Islander on the 4th. Since that time till last Friday he had been staying in Victoria. During the past five weeks Detective Wappingstein has been hard after him. When the case was first placed in his hands he went to New Orleans, where he got track of the fugitive. From that time on he followed up his clue till he located Smith here. On Thursday night he met him by accident on the street and shadowed him till he saw him board the Islander. He at once decided to make the arrest in Vancouver, and, accordingly went over on the same boat with Smith. He left with the detective on the east bound train on Saturday.

For Sweet Charity.

The assembly rooms on Fort street are being placed in readiness for the ball on Wednesday evening and everything belokens that the event will be an unqualified success. The decorations will be simple and appropriate in character, though no effort will be made so much in that direction as in providing good music and refreshments. Persons wishing to make donations can leave them at the hall on Wednesday.

The best offer of Victoria property yet made, either for building purposes or speculation. Sale of lots in new subdivision Burnside Road commences Monday, 31st March, at office of Bourchier, Croft & Mallette.

Poverty in England.

Mr. D. R. Harris, who has just returned from a short business trip to England, says that the contrast to the condition of the working class is in this country and England is most noticeable. Here grinding poverty is almost unknown, but in the old country it stands out without a redeeming feature. It is a common sight to see little children barefoot on the streets in the coldest of weather, while vast crowds of unemployed workingmen thronged the streets and public squares. Three square meals a day is a rarity with the majority.

Our Spring Opening.

The time has come when you must think about Spring wear, and we want you to connect these thoughts with OUR BIG and GOOD. Our preparations for Spring business have been made on a very extensive scale with a view to offering buyers the utmost latitude of choice in styles and prices. We are now about to submit the stock, which represents our taste and judgment, to the critical test of public opinion in our Spring Opening, and hope to hear your voice in the general verdict. You will find our stock adequately representative of the best the market affords, both in materials and styles, and we guarantee our prices to be as low in every case as the quality of our goods will warrant. Price must always be considered in relation to quality, and the final test of quality is actual wear. We are confident that the test of wear will prove the actual worth of the goods we offer. Before you make your Spring Purchases we respectfully ask an examination of our goods. We shall not importune any one to buy, feeling that if our stock will not make buyers, nothing we can say will win us custom. A half hour spent in looking over our assortment of goods will give you a fair idea of the styles that will be popular in this Spring season, and we can only hope it will be as much pleasure for you to see as for us to show our goods.
